and untapped demographic. This was an opportunity to own the conversation in a region where student enthusiasm is high but direct brand engagement is rare.

While the physical hall hosted a concentrated group of 200–300 core enthusiasts, the event's influence was far more expansive. Through a strategic "campus storm" and digital mobilization, we achieved over 1,000 high-intent registrations and reached a total of 5,000+ individuals on ground. This reflects the extensive reach and enthusiastic interest within the DELSU community.

By integrating Dantown into this pan-industry movement, we have successfully unlocked opportunities for growth and inclusion, gaining direct access to a ready market and influencing the onboarding of hundreds of new users in the Delta region.
